CBP STATEMENT

The purpose of this effort is to paint one mile of newly constructed border wall in Calexico, California. CBP believes there is an operational benefit based on our experience with painted barrier in Nogales, Arizona, as well as the aesthetic benefit of improving the appearance of the wall. The request was made to the U.S. Department of Defense (DoD) to support with the application, with CBP paying for the paint and associated materials. The paint and application materials and equipment cost is approximately $150,000. This project is being funded with CBP tactical infrastructure maintenance funding and is expected to be completed in 30 days.

CBP previously applied paint to multiple locations in USBP's Tucson Sector in March 2019 to address camouflaging tactics of illegal border crossers seeking to evade detection in the terrain surrounding the steel bollards. As an additional and unanticipated benefit of the paint application, Tucson Sector agents noted that individuals appeared to have greater difficulty attempting to scale the painted sections.

Hello all,
I'm reaching out to ask if there will be any BP agents or PAOs on site tomorrow when the paint mission starts in Calexico. There's been a fair amount of media coverage of it and some reports include the fact that painting starts tomorrow. I think media may show up and wanted to see if you all had any plans to have someone on site to assist.

Thanks,

(b) (6) thank you for your request. Please see our response below, attributable to a CBP Official.

The purpose of this effort is to paint one mile of newly constructed border wall with black paint. While the primary purpose is to improve the aesthetic appearance of the wall, CBP believes there may also be an operational benefit based on our experience with painted barrier in Nogales, Arizona. The request was made to the U.S. Department of Defense (DoD) to support with the application, with CBP paying for the paint and associated materials. The paint and application materials and equipment cost is approximately $150,000. This project is being funded with CBP tactical infrastructure maintenance funding and is expected to be completed in 30 days.

CBP applied paint to multiple locations in USBP's Tucson Sector in March 2019 to address camouflaging tactics of illegal border crossers seeking to evade detection in the terrain surrounding the steel bollards. As an additional and unanticipated benefit of the paint application, Tucson Sector agents noted that individuals appeared to have greater difficulty attempting to scale the painted sections.

Good morning,
I'm a reporter with HuffPost and I'm reaching out to see if someone is able to confirm and comment on a report that the U.S. military has been asked to spend a month painting border barriers to "improve aesthetic appearance."

If someone can also comment on the paint potentially preventing camouflaging tactics and preventing scaling, I'd appreciate that as well.

I can be reached here or at (b) (6)

Thank you,
